

EMPLOYMENT IMPACTS

- How many jobs will the new product create? Where will production partners be located?
- Does this product have the potential to also cause job loss through replacement of an already existing product? Is there a way to mitigate this possibility?
- Is there potential for future products and new developments based on this project?
- Will the product have an impact on societal resources? For example, a GM plant could be created that uses less water than its non-GM counterpart or a plant that acts as a light source, decreasing public need on electricity.
